ⁱ For State Enterprise Zones (SEZs), please refer to the appropriate SEZ Zone contact and request a letter confirming the project's location within the SEZ. The following web page has a list of those contacts: http://www.caez.org/about_caez/members.htm. Listed SEZ census tracts include an "*" which denotes that only a portion of the census tract is included in the SEZ. The expiration year of each SEZ is listed in (parenthesis) with the SEZ designation. Note: A project may be in a CC/EC/EZ/RC/SEZ whose active status has expired. These projects will not be considered to meet the tiebreaker criteria of Section 10325(c)(12).

ⁱⁱ The census tract numbers for this SEZ are for its initial 1994 version including Pittsburg, the SEZ has been redesignated their SEZ status as of 2006, and if the boundaries of the zone have changed, these census tract numbers may no longer be valid. The Pittsburg SEZ expires in 2008, and at that time, these census tract numbers should no longer be applicable.

ⁱⁱⁱ These tract numbers appear to be 1990 tract numbers. The appropriate 2000 tract numbers appear to be 78 and 79.

^{iv} The original Calexico SEZ expired in 2006, however, the SEZ was re-designated in 2006. To the extent the boundaries of the original SEZ may have changed, these tract numbers may no longer be valid.

^v The Antelope Valley (Palmdale and Lancaster) SEZ expires 2012.

^{vi} The original San Bernardino/Colton SEZ expired in 2006, however, the SEZ was re-designated in 2006. To the extent the boundaries of the original SEZ may have changed, these tract numbers may no longer be valid.
